Jay Vavricek launches mayoral website and pledges accessibility

Today Grand Island Mayoral candidate Jay Vavricek launched his campaign website at www.jayformayor.com and pledged accessibility to voter concerns.

To be effective as Mayor, I believe one needs to be accessible, approachable, open to understanding what's important to citizen concerns, communicate effectively and be responsive to each taxpayer. Today's announcement is one way to reach out to voters, so anyone can learn who I am, what I stand for and reach out to me... because as your next Mayor, I will represent the best interests of everyone in our community," stated Vavricek.

"In fact, here's my cell phone number (308) 380-4913...just as in the Mayor's office before and in the future, I'm only a phone call away", Jay said.

The Jay for mayor.com website is one form of communication that explains my lifetime record of volunteer and elected public service to our community and where I stand on issues facing our community.

"I want to serve as your Mayor to make local government more responsive to the needs of taxpayers and to those that create jobs. We don't need more taxes; we need more opportunity, good paying jobs, lower taxes and openness in government decision making."

My focus as Mayor will be to protect taxpayer interests, create jobs for the people of our community, promote safe neighborhoods, and be a strong communicator and work to increase public trust in city government. Vavricek concluded."

Check the Jay for Mayor dot com web site, now and in the future, to alert me of your concerns. So I can better understand your views to serve the people of Grand Island effectively.
